

AAO/AAOE Benchmarking Project Academy Terms of Service (TOS) and privacy policy

The American Academy of Ophthalmology (AAO) and the American Academy of Ophthalmic Executives (AAOE) welcome you as a participant to the Benchmarking Project.

The Benchmarking Project is provided to you for your use as a member benefit. When you register your Authorized Data Respondent for the project, you are acknowledging that you are voluntarily entering your Practice's data for inclusion into the aggregate database, which is accessible by other Benchmarking Project participants. We reserve the right to exclude data that appears to be erroneous or markedly inconsistent. The Academy will not display on its Web site nor share with anyone else except internal staff (if deemed necessary) through any other means (e-mail, electronic document, printed material or otherwise) your registration information (Practice demographics) either alone or in conjunction with your Practice's data. Additionally, identifiers specific to your practice will be stripped from the final data set, and the number of data sets displayed in the reporting tools (either the complete aggregate set or any filtered set as defined by the user) must be equal to or greater than fifteen (15) complete data sets. The Academy is adhering to the requirements set forth by the Department of Justice (DOJ) and Federal Trade Commission (FTC) regarding benchmarking practices, and it can not be held liable if by chance your Practice is identified by another member.

Should the registered Authorized Data Respondent leave the employment of the Practice submitting your Practice data, they are to immediately cease use of the Benchmarking password and username. You acknowledge that it would be a violation of civil and criminal law should your registered Authorized Data Respondent access your private, proprietary data after they have ended their employment with the Practice. You further understand that providing access to the Benchmarking database to any other party other than the Authorized Data Respondent registered for your Practice is also a violation of the law and subject to applicable punishment.

The aggregate Benchmarking data is provided for your use only and should not be posted, e-mailed, reproduced, repurposed or published in any on-line, print, or electronic media without prior written consent from the Academy (AAO).
